Vermont Celebrates National Catholic Schools Week 2017

National Catholic Schools Week has been celebrated every year since 1974, recognizing Catholic education in the United States. This year, it takes place from January 29th to February 4th.

The theme chosen for this National Catholic Schools Week is “Catholic Schools: Communities of Faith, Knowledge and Service.” The theme encompasses several concepts that are at the heart of a Catholic education. First, schools are communities — small families in their own right, but also members of the larger community of home, church, city and nation.

Schools typically observe the annual celebration week with Masses, open houses and other activities for students, families, parishioners and community members. Through these events, Catholic schools share with their communities the good things that Catholic schools offer young people and highlight contributions to the Church, communities and the nation through academic excellence, faith-filled education and values.

Bishop Christopher Coyne will celebrate Mass with Catholic School students from throughout Vermont on Wednesday, Feb. 1 at 10:00 a.m. at St. Joseph’s Co-Cathedral in Burlington. Please join us for this special Mass.

A Dozen Reasons to choose Catholic Schools

- We offer an education that combines Catholic faith and teachings with academic excellence.
- We partner with parents in the faith formation of their children.
- We set high standards for student achievement and help them succeed.
- We provide a balanced academic curriculum that integrates faith, culture and life.
- We use technology effectively to enhance education.
- We instill in students the value of service to others.
- We teach children respect of self and others.
- We emphasize moral development and self-discipline.
- We prepare students to be productive citizens and future leaders.
- We have a 99 percent high school graduation rate. 85 percent of our graduates go to college.
- We cultivate a faculty and staff of people who are dedicated, caring and effective.
- We provide a safe and welcoming environment for all.
